Industry-leading PCB design software to meet advanced requirements and cover the entire PCB design life cycle. From concept to production. Mentor Graphics software allows you to quickly design and print printed circuit boards (PCBs) and component drawings. It allows the production of electronic components such as microcircuits and memory modules, as well as other printed circuit boards, including flat boards, and modules, including those with hole plating. In addition, the program provides PCB design within a single project, such as a device development project, which saves time and resources.
